TRUSTEE'S MOTION TO DISMISS WITH PREJUDICE AND MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT THEREOF

Kevin R. Anderson, Standing Chapter 13 Trustee, by and through counsel, hereby moves this Court to dismiss the above-captioned case with prejudice under 11 U.S.C. §§ 1307(c) and 109(g). In support thereof, the Trustee represents as follows.

FACTS

1. On October 3, 2005, the Debtors filed a petition for relief under Chapter 13 of the United States Bankruptcy Code.
2. The Debtors' were required to file a Chapter 13 plan, a Statement of Financial Affairs, and their Bankruptcy Schedules on or before October 18, 2005.

3. As of the date of this Motion, the Debtors have failed to file a Chapter 13 plan, a Statement of Financial Affairs, or the required Bankruptcy Schedules.

4. As of the date of this Motion, the Debtors have failed to request approval from the Court for their failure to timely file the required bankruptcy papers.

5. According to the Court's database, the Debtors have filed the following bankruptcy cases in this District (see Court docket reports attached hereto as Exhibit "A"):

6. The Debtors failed to list any of their prior Bankruptcy cases on their Chapter 13 petition.

MEMORANDUM

To prevail under 11 U.S.C. § 109(g), the Trustee must show (1) that the Debtors failed to abide by an order of the court or failed to appear before the court in proper prosecution of the case and (2) that such failure was willful. An appearance includes being present at non-court hearings related to a case or filing papers in a case. See In re Jim Tilson, Bankr No. 03B-22735, slip op. at 7-8 (Bankr. D. Utah June 6, 2003). Proper prosecution of a case requires compliance with various statutory duties, including those contained in 11 U.S.C. §§ 341, 521, 1304, 1321, 1322, 1326, the Federal Rules of Civil and Bankruptcy Procedure, and the Local Rules. Id. Finally, conduct is “willful” within the meaning of § 109(g) when the Debtors had notice of the responsibility to act, and the Debtors intentionally engaged in conduct that resulted in a failure to fulfill that responsibility. Id.

The Debtors failed to file the Statement of Financial Affairs and Bankruptcy Schedules as required by 11 U.S.C. § 521(1), FED. R. BANKR. P. 1007(a), and Local Rule 5005-1(b). The Debtors failed to file a Chapter 13 plan as required by 11 U.S.C. § 1321, FED. R. BANKR. P. 3015(b), and Local Rule 5005-1(b). The Debtors have also failed to request from the Court an extension of the time in which to file the required Bankruptcy papers. These actions constitute a failure to appear before the Court in the proper prosecution of the case. Id.

The following factors evidence that the Debtors' conduct was willful. This is the Debtors' eleventh Chapter 13 case in the last five years and their thirteenth total bankruptcy case. The Court dismissed the Debtors' prior bankruptcy cases for the Debtors' failure to file a Chapter 13 plan, file a Statement of Financial Affairs, file the required Bankruptcy Schedules, appear at the First Meeting of Creditors, tender the initial plan payment, and make ongoing plan payments. The Debtors have also failed to avail themselves of the Court and request an extension of the time in which to file the required bankruptcy papers.

In determining if the Debtors' actions are deliberate and willful the Court should first examine the Debtors' conduct in prior cases. When a debtor has previously failed to prosecute a bankruptcy case, the Court should consider the following:

On a case-by-case basis, the Court will review the debtor's conduct in their prior bankruptcies to determine whether the totality of the circumstances constitutes "willful failure." Repeated conduct may give rise to an inference that the debtor's actions were deliberate, and the debtor's explanation will be weighed in the light of those circumstances.

In re Fulton, 52 B.R. 627, 634 (Bankr. D. Utah 1985) (citations omitted; emphasis added). In Hall v. Vance, 887 F.2d 1041, 1045 (10th Cir. 1989), the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals also indicated that bad faith conduct by a debtor, that is prejudicial to creditors, justifies dismissal of the case with prejudice.

In addition to examining a debtor's conduct in prior cases, the Court should also consider whether a debtor has taken any action in their present case to obtain Court approval for their conduct.

All parties in interest are already governed by the Bankruptcy Code and subject to the court's authority. The debtor may seek prior permission from the court to file required papers after the statutory deadline, to continue a regularly scheduled § 341 meeting, to abate Chapter 13 plan payments, or for other relief. It is in light of the immediacy of access to the imprimatur of court that the debtor's actions must be evaluated.

In re Alice Sink, Bankr No. 02B-20042, slip op. 434 at 20 (Bankr. D. Utah February 28, 2003).

The Debtors have enjoyed many years of protection under the automatic stay; yet, as Chapter 13 Debtors, they have consistently failed to comply with their statutory responsibilities, including their present failure to file a Chapter 13 plan, a Statement of Financial Affairs, or the required Bankruptcy Schedules. Given the Debtors' prior filing history, the Debtors should be aware of and familiar with their responsibility to file the required bankruptcy papers or request

Court approval for their failure to comply with their statutory responsibilities. The Debtors' familiarity with their responsibilities under Chapter 13 and their failure to avail themselves of the Court raises the inference that the present failure to file a Chapter 13 plan, a Statement of Financial Affairs, or the required Bankruptcy Schedules is deliberate and willful. Any explanation provided by the Debtors should be weighed in light of their extensive filing history.

Furthermore, each time a debtor files under Chapter 13, it requires significant effort and commitment of resources by the Bankruptcy Court, the Trustee's office, and creditors to administer and monitor each case. While a debtor should be entitled to some leeway when unforeseen circumstances require the dismissal and refiling of a case, eleven failed Chapter 13 cases since December 2000 exceeds any reasonable definition of fairness. In summary, the Debtors' conduct is prejudicial to creditors and signals an abuse of the provisions and the spirit of the Bankruptcy Code.

THEREFORE, based on the foregoing facts and representations, the Trustee moves the Court for the entry of an Order dismissing this case with prejudice under 11 U.S.C. § 109(g).

DATED: November 10, 2005.
